4.1.1 采用 SHL 试题的公司概略

Mars    ICI    Unilever    高露洁    汇丰银行    恒生银行    渣打银行
德勤    KPMG    瑞安集团……

考试的具体形式因公司而异，分为 paper-based 和 online test 两种，大部分公司会选择英文原文试题，也有比较少的选择中文版本。

➤ Paper Test（毕马威 KPMG、安永、E&Y、汇丰等）

毕马威的笔试采用的是 SHL 的试题，分为 verbal 和 number 两个部分，时间有限，一般做不完，主要考察英文阅读能力、逻辑能力、数字能力和准确率。在这一关 80% 的人，无法进入下一轮。

安永的笔试主要是写作文，考察英文表达能力，每年的题型都有变化。

➤ On-line test（德勤 DTT 等）

在线提交简历后，会收到一个在线测试的链接，类似于心理测试，100 道题左右，有时间限制；隔几天后，会收到一个在线英文测试，是 SHL 的试题，与毕马威的 verbal 有些类似的 Group Discussion

4.1.2 SHL 全真测试题

Numerical Reasoning

This test is designed to measure your ability to make logical deductions from statistical tables and numerical data.

In this test you have to use facts and figures presented in statistical tables to answer the questions. In each question you are given five options from which to choose ONE, and only one, of the options is correct in each case. For some numerical tests of this nature you may be provided with a calculator - for some you may be required to work without one. You may try the following questions with or without the use of a calculator - as you wish. In addition at your assessment, you may be provided with rough paper for your working out.

You have 44 minutes to finish 38 questions in this section.

A divide has emerged between those supporting and those opposing active forest management as concerns about the environmental problems resulting from deforestation have increased. There is currently a large volume of research regarding the management of forest ecosystems, tree breeding and the selection of species and varieties. This was partially related to the passing of forestry laws in the majority of Western nations in the 20th century which was in response to growing conservationist social ideals and the technological advances of logging companies. Reforestation is one way to apply modern forestry whereby trees are planted and cultivated in a designated area. Further to this, damage to property, human injury and even death can be prevented with the application of good forestry.

Question 1: Modern forestry can be used to aid planting and reforestation.

- ☐ True
☐ False
☐ Cannot Say

Question 2: Good forestry cannot prevent loss of human life.

- ☐ True
☐ False
☐ Cannot Say

Question 3: In the twentieth century, conservationist ideals grew in the West.

- ☐ True
☐ False
☐ Cannot Say

Question 4: Reforestation is the most important aspect of modern forestry.

- ☐ True
☐ False
☐ Cannot Say

Question 5: Deforestation has not affected views on forest management.

- ☐ True
- ☐ False
- ☐ Cannot Say

General aviation and scheduled air transport comprise the two categories of civil aviation. General aviation excludes scheduled airline activity but includes all other aircraft flights including private and commercial flights. It has huge potential to change the way people transport themselves for the better. The introduction of the new very light jets, which have lower operating costs, means that theoretically people can use the thousands of airports globally to get a lot closer to their chosen destination than with traditional scheduled airline travel. General aviation could also expand in areas such as news gathering, police work, emergency medical flights, crop-dusting, and many other aerial activities. However significant obstacles do exist, such as the price of aircraft and training being prohibitively high for most people, and the public still generally have a perception that the safety of small private aircraft is not good.

Question 32: Scheduled air transport and general aviation encompass all civil aviation.

- ☐ True
- ☐ False
- ☐ Cannot Say

Question 33: Advances in general aviation could be used by the medical service.

- ☐ True
- ☐ False
- ☐ Cannot Say

Question 34: General aviation only includes private flights.

- ☐ True

The increase in passengers' use of portable electronics that can cause interference with an aircraft's systems is leading to the need for an innovative and practical solution. These transmissions are not limited to mobile phones; modern microprocessors, and electronics with Wi-Fi and Bluetooth transceivers are also amongst the personal electronic devices (PEDs) that may interfere with a plane's electronics. Few people know how to configure their PEDs in order to make them safe during air-travel. A suggested solution is to give the pilot control, through the ability to switch on a coded wireless frequency during take-off and landing that the PED would respond to by switching to a flight-safe mode. This signal would be transmitted at a low frequency so as not to interfere with the aeroplane's systems. It has also been suggested that this idea be applied in cinemas and theatres to automatically turn the audience's phones onto silent mode.

Question 36: Wi-Fi and Bluetooth could be turned off by the pilot of an aircraft by using a coded frequency.

- ☐ True
- ☐ False
- ☐ Cannot Say

Question 37: A signal would be transmitted at the same frequency in theatres and cinemas as in aeroplanes in order for personal electronic devices to pick up the signal.

- ☐ True
- ☐ False
- ☐ Cannot Say

Question 38: The proposed solution to the increase in passengers' use of personal electronic devices could be applied to other situations.

- ☐ True
- ☐ False
- ☐ Cannot Say

In the newest attempt to defeat counterfeit and forged credit or ID cards, an audio watermarking scheme is being developed in the Netherlands. Cards will be developed to carry a polymer with a pattern of impurities distributed inside. When inserted into the card reader, sound would then be injected into the material using a miniature loudspeaker, with a miniature microphone picking up the sound on the other side. The impurities in the card would result in the sound becoming distorted. This sound would then be checked against a stored reference sound to check that the card is genuine. To create a fake card that produced the right noise, or to forge the pattern of impurities buried in the card would be incredibly difficult.

Question 39: The sound would be injected into the card by the card reader through the miniature loudspeaker.

- ☐ True
- ☐ False
- ☐ Cannot Say

Question 40: Sonic watermarking is more difficult to forge than visual.

- ☐ True
- ☐ False

4. 1. 3 KPMG 样题 (verbal 部分)

The big economic difference between nuclear and fossil-fuelled power stations is that nuclear reactors are more expensive to build and decommission, but cheaper to run. So disputes over the relative efficiency of the two systems revolve not just around prices of coal and uranium today and tomorrow, but also around the way in which future income should be compared with current income.

1. The main difference between nuclear and fossil-fuelled power stations is an economic one.
☐ True
☐ False
☐ Cannot Say
2. The price of coal is not relevant to discussions about the relative efficiency of nuclear reactors.
☐ True
☐ False
☐ Cannot Say
3. If nuclear reactors were cheaper to build and decommission than fossil-fuelled power stations, they would definitely have the economic advantage.
☐ True
☐ False

At any given moment we are being bombarded by physical and psychological stimuli competing for our attention. Although our eyes are capable of handling more than 5 million bits of data per second, our brain are capable of interpreting only about 500 bits per second. With similar disparities between each of the other senses and the brain, it is easy to see that we must select the visual, auditory, or tactile stimuli that we wish to compute at any specific time.

4. Physical stimuli usually win in the competition for our attention.
☐ True
☐ False
☐ Cannot Say
5. The capacity of the human brain is sufficient to interpret nearly all the stimuli the senses can register under optimum conditions.
☐ True
☐ False
☐ Cannot Say
6. Eyes are able to cope with a greater input of information than ears.

A business plan can serve several purposes: In the world of banking and venture capital, business plans play a very important role for people who are trying to secure start-up funding from banks or investors. The better the business plan, the better the chances of getting a big initial investment.

For smaller companies, who luckily do not need to rely on outside funding to get started, a business plan serves more as a company blueprint. It identifies the company's purpose, products, market, and goals. It also lists the steps the company plans to take to reach those goals.

Before you start writing a business plan, you will need to decide what purpose your business plan is going to serve. If you are writing a formal business plan to obtain financing, you will need to be much more concerned about detail and format than if you are just preparing one for your personal use. There are a number of business plan resources that can be found in full-length books on the subject and on the internet. Be sure to look at several of these and then follow the format that you think best matches your own objectives.

Once you have written your business plan you will be surprised at how often you refer to it. It will become your battle plan? As well as the tool you will use to measure how close you are to meeting your goals? Or by how much you are surpassing them!

27. What is the primary focus of this passage?

- (A). How to write a book.
- (B). Obtaining financing for a new business
- (C). The importance of writing a business plan
- (D). Internet marketing

28. Which of the following is NOT mentioned as part of a company's market?

- (A). Identification of company's market.
- (B). Identification of company's main competitors.
- (C). Identification of company's products.
- (D). Identification of company's purpose.

29. According to the article, what should one do before writing a business plan?

- (A). Decide what purpose the plan will serve.
- (B). Go to the bank.
- (C). Talk to some friends.
- (D). Think of a name for the company.
